STARRING
BRENDA COLLINS

BRENDA COLLINS

A 'Sounds of the 60s' revue fronted by the incorrigible Brenda Collins. Quite sensationally the best lookalike one could imagine, a truly zany character with a personality that spells fun and laughter to everyone she meets.

*Seeing is Believing
& a Lorra Lorra Laughs!*

TONY BLANEY

Tony Blaney has been entertaining for over 20 years as an actor/singer.

His acting work includes Willie Mossop in Hobson's Choice, Richard in The Outside Edge and a production of Olwyn Wymark's Find Me in which he played no less than 15 characters. Musical productions include playing Elwood Blues in Blues Brothers Live and Frank Sinatra in Rat Pack Party.

When not working alongside Brenda Collins, he teaches, directs, acts and tours as a solo singer always returning to his home town of Liverpool.

THE SILHOUETTES

Mike Watson, Doug Morgan and Steve Allen, a musical delight and foot tappin' music in the very best style from our superb multi-talented band. Between them the boys play more than a dozen instruments. We've got kings of rhythm backing the show. Who could ask for anything more?
